INTUITIVE CONCEPTS FEATURED IN THE WOMEN'S BOOK COLLECTIVE - REINVENTION ISSUE

SUNBURY, OH, (June 3, 2011) – The definition of reinvent is to create a new version of something and to change radically the appearance of a presentation of something or somebody. That's exactly what six Ohio women did, resulting in this issue of The Collective for Women, a publication of The Women's Book.

Diana Garber, President, CEO (Creative Environment Officer©), and Master Feng Shui Practitioner, is one of the featured women. "I left an officer's paycheck, bonuses, benefits, and retirement package with a Fortune 100 company to pursue my passion ... and that is to change the world one business, one home, one person at a time," Garber said. "Some of my friends said I was 'courageous,' and others thought I was loony. Then the economy sank, but I'm as busy as I've ever been. Today people are looking for answers outside the box, keeping in mind that every decision affects their environment. Thus we've coined the phrase, manage your environment consciously or it unconsciously manages you©."
